$23 Million Tax Hike Slow Hitting Peak

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas Comptroller Kelly Cornett said today the $23,000,000 increase expected in state revenues from 1957 tax changes probably will not be realized this fiscal year.

"This is primarily because collections under the new state income tax law will not be completed this year," Cornett said.

He made the statement in a report to the people of Arkansas on how new state tax revenues are being used. The 1957 legislature increased the sales tax from two to three per cent, raised severance taxes on some natural resources, and changed income tax laws to remove some personal exemptions and substitute tax credits.

Cornett said the State Board of Education budgeted 93.8 per cent of the $14,300,000 realized by the tax increases to higher salaries and retirement benefits. The salary this school year for teachers, he said, is $3,133 compared with $2,410 paid the previous year.

Expanded Programs
The allotment for the schools the blind and deaf were increased from $426,000 to $530,500 with the extra money going for higher salaries and expended programs.

The University of Arkansas gained $2,620,000 from the increases, with $651,580 going to the main campus, $1,030,420 to agricultural research, and $738,000 to agricultural extension. The University added 41 new faculty positions at the main campus, and increased salaries ranging from $600 for instructors to $1,118 for professors.

The agricultural programs were expanded and salaries increased by the additional money granted them.

Public Welfare programs, which got 19 per cent of the increase, were expanded and benefits increased. Cornett said Public Welfare received $3,500,000 from the state.

Tito Peeved With Tactics of Russians

LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (UP) — President Tito said today Russia's attitude toward Yugoslavia is "sort-sighted and tactless," while Yugoslavia's relations with the United States are "based on mutual respect."

In a speech opening the Communist Party's seventh Yugoslav congress, however, Tito reaffirmed his determination to steer clear of both East and West.

He was sharply critical of the attack on Yugoslavia broadcast Monday night by the radio transmitters of Russia and its satellites.

"It was designed to suggest that Yugoslavia should be re-educated and brought again into the Soviet camp," he said. "It is difficult to understand such a short-sighted and tactless attitude toward our country."

In contrast to his brisk rejection of Soviet interference, Tito was unusually warm in his comments regarding the United States.

"Our relations with the U.S. are founded on mutual respect, cooperation and non-interference in each other's internal affairs," he said. "If there were certain attempts (in the past) not in line with these principles, they usually came from individuals or groups and not from the U.S. government."

The Russians and their satellites are formally boycotting the Yugoslav party meeting for the third time in 10 years, leaving it to their diplomatic representatives regularly stationed in Belgrade to represent them.

$126,000 in Jewels Stolen From Woman

CHICAGO (UP) — Mrs. Titus Hafra, wife of a multimillionaire Chicago industrialist, was robbed Monday night of $126,200 in jewelry by two bandits who surprised her in the vestibule of her plush Lake Shore apartment house.

It was the second time in seven weeks she has been victimized by jewel thieves. On March 2, she lost $175,000 in gems to burglars while a guest of Arthur Godfrey in Florida.

"There's nothing more for them to take," Mrs. Hafra told police after the robbery. "I'm cleaned out."

Mrs. Hafra told authorities the bandits, one about 45 and the other about 50, accosted her as she entered the apartment. She said one of the bandits wore a handkerchief mask and brandished a revolver.

Taken back by the daring of the bandits and thinking it might be a prank, Mrs. Hafra walked away and was pursued about the lobby by the unarmed thief.

The bandits then forced her into a 29-carat diamond ring valued at $100,000, a wedding bracelet worth $18,000 and a $6,700 wrist watch.

No Damage By Storms in Arkansas

BY UNITED PRESS

Arkansas escaped damage from severe thunderstorms and possible tornadoes that were forecast for the extreme southwest portion Monday afternoon and night.

All the state got out of the threat was a dosing with rain that, with exceptions, was generally light. Georgetown measured 1.78 to lead the state. Mountain Home had .50 of an inch. Black Rock, 42, Augusta and Fayetteville, 39, Judsonia, 37, and Evening Shade, Walnut Ridge and Little Rock, 22.

Lesser amounts fell in virtually every county of the state.

Meanwhile, fair skies forecast for the afternoon were expected to give way to scattered thunderstorms late tonight and Wednesday. Changes in temperature will be minor. Highs this afternoon will be in the 70's, lows tonight in the mid 40's, to mid 50's and highs Wednesday between 60 and 70.

Weed Control Subject of Meet Thursday

Colored slides showing in detail chemical weed control in cotton production will be shown Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Hempstead County courtroom by William E. Woodall, Extension Cotton Specialist.

County Agent Oliver L. Adams arranged the informative meeting at the request of Ozan cotton producers Milam Green, Truman Hill and Tony Rowe. These producers said that reports indicate that more farmers each year turn to chemicals as a means of weed control to meet the rapidly diminishing supply of farm labor at an increasing cost for the labor.

All cotton producers are invited to attend the Thursday afternoon meeting. Mr. Woodall will show and explain seedbed preparation, planting, pre-emergence application, post-emergence application, flame cultivation, equipment, estimated costs, calibration of sprayers, and weeds killed and not killed.

Youth Center Nets $175 From Show

Lee Grubel, "America's Number 1 Magician" proved himself to be just that last night before the local folks at the High School Auditorium.

In his matinee performances at Yerger High School and Hope High School he amazed the younger set with his comedy and illusions. The youngsters got a real thrill from his pulling silver dollars from behind their ears, out of their hair and under their coats. Mr. Grubel also did all that he claimed to do.

He shot a girl from a cannon into a box hanging from the ceiling, he suspended a girl in space and allowed someone from the audience to come on stage and touch her while she hung in space. He changed places with a photographer who was supposedly taking his picture completely across the stage from him in plain view of the audience.

Then in his most amazing act, with the help of a committee consisting of Elmer Brown, Jimmy Griffin, Bob Westbrook and Jamie Russel who lied, locked and wrapped his wife securely in a wooden box, he exchanged places with her in less than three seconds. The committee still doesn't know how he did it.

The local Youth Council considers Mr. Grubel to be a No. one man as well as a magician. He was very high in his praise of the local youth and exceptionally considerate in his business relationships.

Due to the short time that the young folks had to sell tickets between our fine Kiwanis Minstrel and Mr. Grubel's show and also the added handicap of threatening weather, Mr. Grubel went more than half way to see that the Youth Center made a fair profit from the show.

The Youth Center grossed about $200 in profits from the show and after expenses will net close to $175.

First prize in ticket sales went to David Moore, second prize to Helen Ramsey and third prize to Mike Soamans. These youngsters are to be commended. Officials thanked the folks who helped these young people in trying to help themselves.

Russia Suffers Setback of Her Own Making

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP) — The Soviet Union suffered a major propaganda defeat of its own making in the U.N. Security Council Monday night, and the big question today was why.

Diplomatic quarters said the Soviets, in accusing the United States of "provocative" flights by nuclear-armed bombers, must be trying to block an East-West summit conference for unknown reasons. Until now Russia has led the cry for summit talks.

Preliminary talks for such a conference actually were in progress in Moscow Friday when Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said U.S. hydrogen bombers threatened a new world war by heading toward Russia every time there was an alert.

Rebuffed by States
Within hours Soviet Ambassador Arkady A. Sobolev announced he would air the propaganda charge in the Security Council, although a motion to censure the United States failed sure defeat. He withdrew "all charges Monday night rather than put the issue to a losing vote."

Diplomats connected the usual procedure of the Moscow pre-summit negotiations with the H-bomber charge, based on a dispatch written April 7 by United Press President Frank H. Bartholomew and approved by the Defense Department in advance of publication.

The debate on the Russian H-bomb charges raged for six hours until 9 p. m. e.s.t. Neutral Sweden did not speak, but all the other 10 members of the Security Council did. All save Russia supported the U.S. position.

Adjournment Effort Defeated
Sobolev tried to adjourn the meeting but twice his efforts were defeated. Then U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge drove the debate to a conclusion, despite Sobolev's protests the action was "unheard of" and that he was withdrawing his resolution in protest against it.

"It was a complete defeat for the Soviet Union," Lodge said. "The vote would have been overwhelmingly against them and that is why they withdrew the resolution."

Sobolev told newsmen he did not know what the next step would be. "That will be decided by my government," he said.

Parking Ticket Setup Revised by Directors

At the request of a Merchant's Committee last night Hope City Directors decided to abandon courtesy parking in the city. However, courtesy tickets will be tagged an out-of-county cars.

Police were also instructed to only allow two hours parking for a ticket handed out. Hereafter if a motorist received a ticket he could park the rest of the day free. Now he will be allowed only two hours.

The group also set in motion machinery to tear down houses condemned at 610 N. Bell, 703 N. Laurel, 311 East 8th North, 332 N. Hazel, 1007 Paul St., 1102 Graham, 205 N. Berry, 901 Berry and 409 N. Hazel. Under condemnation proceedings the city will tear down the condemned houses and charge the cost to property owners.

R. A. Lyle & Co. reviewed the 1957 audit with the group with Robert Jewel representing the auditing firm. A report of the city finances will soon be made public.

Signals GOP Battle Against Jobless Pay Bill

By VINCENT J. BURKE
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower gave Republican congressional leaders today the signal for a "major" fight against a Democratic plan for jobless payments.

Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland said after a White House meeting that the President feels the Democratic plan would "seriously jeopardize" the traditional federal-state relationship in the field of unemployment compensation benefits.

Knowland said the chief objection to the Democratic plan, as he understood it, is that it would bring into the program persons not previously insured by unemployment compensation.

Knowland said the Democratic plan, approved by the House Ways and Means Committee Monday, appears to go "much further than administration proposals" and would very seriously jeopardize federal-state relationship in this field.

He said the President shared that feeling.

Reimbursed by States
Knowland said there will "certainly be a major effort" in the Senate and probably in the House to prevent upsetting the traditional federal-state relationship in the field of unemployment compensation insurance.

The President recently sent Congress a proposal for extending the period of jobless payments. It would extend by 50 per cent the varying periods for which jobless workers who have exhausted their unemployment compensation may draw benefits.

The administration plan would not increase the amount of jobless pay nor provide benefits for any workers not now covered by state unemployment insurance programs.

Under the plan, the federal government would front the bill for the added payments, but states would have to reimburse the federal Treasury later.

The Democratic plan would provide payments for almost all unemployed. It would provide for 10 weeks of additional payment at an estimated cost of 1,575,000,000. Knowland criticized the Democratic plan as "detrimental." He said it amounted to "a general onslaught" against the federal-state relationship.

No Talk of Tax Cut
At the weekly meeting between the President and his GOP congressional leaders, Knowland said:

"I said a letter containing recommendations to 'improve and strengthen' the nation's railroads will be sent by Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks to the Senate today or Wednesday."

"I said there was no discussion of a possible tax cut. Knowland said the administration will not make any proposal in the field without first consulting Democratic and Republican leaders of the House."

"There was discussion of proposals for the Small Business Administration to encourage such business. He said the small business administrator will testify before Congress soon on some 'additional recommendations.'"

"There was discussion of merging the Office of Defense Mobilization and the Federal Civil Defense Administration. He said there was a general feeling that such a merger is 'desirable' to eliminate some overlapping."

CAA Probing Wreck That Took 49 Lives

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP)—Civil Aeronautics investigators pieced together in the desert today the burned and twisted evidence that may tell why an Air Force jet and an airliner collided Monday morning, killing 49 persons.

In Washington, key members of Congress burned telephone lines to the Civil Aeronautics Administration with demands for increased protection for civilian airliners against the hurtling military jets which the Civil Aeronautics Board has said are involved in about one-third of all "near collisions" in flight.

The key question appeared to be whether the Air Force F100F fighter trainer was falling out of control when it crossed the path of the United Air Lines DC7 or whether its instructor pilot simply failed to see the silver airliner during a controlled descent.

One in a Million

If the former, the accident was a "one-in-a-million freak," a CAA spokesman said.

The Air Force has said it has 1,150 planes in flight at all times. The wheel of fortune stopped on death 12 miles southwest of this gambling resort Monday in a cloudless sky. The jet, carrying an instructor and a student on a blind-flying training flight, was descending from 28,000 feet when its path converged with that of the airliner, flying at 21,000 feet with 42 passengers and five crew members.

The airliner, enroute from Los Angeles to New York, "screamed and boomed" earthward in a death dive, ending in a skidding crash, explosion and fire on the rock-studded desert.

Wreckage Scattered

Wreckage of the plane was scattered over a square mile area. Its four engines fell several hundred feet from the main mass of bodies, debris and charred personal belongings of the plane's occupants.

The jet, from nearby Nellis Air Force Base, spiraled into the ground about 6 1/2 miles away. Capt. Tom Coryell, 28, Indianapolis, Ind., the pilot-instructor, apparently tried to eject from the disabled jet, but was too late. Student-pilot, Lt. Gerald Moran, 24, Rapid City, S.D., was found in the wreckage of the jet.

Faubus Claims He Has Plenty of 'Evidence'

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Gov. Faubus said Monday he had plenty of evidence that Chancellor Le Ward of Paragould made a trip to the East to get financial backing to oppose Faubus for governor, but Faubus said he would wait until later to comment further on the subject.

"I might find it expedient or helpful to document it, so I'll just wait until later before I make any comments," Faubus said.

The governor's statement was in answer to a challenge by Ward, who said he would withdraw from the race for governor if Faubus could prove Ward had made such a trip.

In answer to the challenge Faubus said:

"In whose court would he have to be tried—his? If there isn't anything to the accusation, why is he so concerned? Back in my part of the country, they have a saying that the stuck pig always squeals."

But Faubus told newsmen he thought Ward was "a gentleman and a scholar."

DOROTHY DIX

Teacher Ought to Learn Her Lessons About Love

Dear Dorothy Dix: My daughter, 23 years old, is teaching school many miles from home. She has fallen in love with a boy who is only 19, and they plan to marry soon. He has no money saved, an insecure job and I feel the marriage is wrong. Of course, my objections get no consideration — I'm "old hat." To me this smacks more of infatuation than real love. How does it strike you?

MRS. N. F.: I think you're entirely right and that such an unequal marriage will bring nothing but unhappiness. It must be admitted, however, that there is practically no age barrier that has not been surmounted successfully by some lucky people. A four year difference, however, at such tender ages as 19 and 23 would have a hard run for happiness. The disparity wouldn't be much if the couple were in their thirties, and both had their tastes, characters and careers pretty well formed. It's a different matter with the young. Your daughter has been through college, has had the experience of making her own living, while her fiancé is still a boy. He's immature, changeable, unformed and has no experience at life, or living. In short, she has grown up; he hasn't. The only thing you can do for them is to urge a waiting period. There's no better test of the desirability of a marriage than time. If she'll agree to a two-year postponement, a change of heart and mind is practically guaranteed.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm deeply in love with Leo, who was engaged to a girl in his home town when he was in high school. Now he plans to make a trip back home, and I know he'll see the girl. I'm afraid I may lose him. Should I break up with him now and save

McCaskey HD Club Meets

The McCaskey Home Demonstration Club met Thursday night at the community building with Mrs. Loy Rodgers, president, presiding. Mystery pals for the past three months were revealed and new names drawn. Plans were made to sell ads for the Southwest District Livestock Show catalog this month.

A demonstration and talk on cutting and sewing plaids was made by Mrs. Cloyd Bittick. Mrs. R. G. Shuffield read a paper on "Citizenship" and Mrs. Arthur Wimmell, health chairman, read a paper on "Poisons" and also reported on the Nashville Flower Show which will be given April 25. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. J. G. Prescott and Mrs. Bittick.

myself heartache later? BETTY
Dear Betty: Where's your faith, honey? Let Leo go home, fully confident that he'll come back. After all, if he had wanted the other girl, he'd have kept her. He assures you of his love, so trust him.

Dear Dorothy Dix: When my boy friend and I are out in company he's very nice. But when we are alone he often says things to hurt me. Do you think he is just putting on a front for other people? Should I continue seeing him, or break off?

GAIL
Dear Gail: There would be no purpose in making a good impression before others only to undo it all in private. I think your boy friend is just a bit shy, and doesn't really know what to say when you are alone. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my letter to "The Shy Beau." It may help you handle him.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Recently I met a very nice boy. I feel guilty because I don't want him to meet my girl friend. She's quite attractive and I know he'll fall for her. It's already happened too often.

HOPELESS
Dear Hopeless: Buck up, girl, and have a little confidence in yourself. What happens to all these boys she takes away from you? (Perhaps it would be better to say that you hand them to her on a silver platter.) Face it, you'll have to introduce her to your boy friend. Circumstances are bound to bring about a meeting one day. This time, however, make up your mind you have at least as much to offer in friendship as she has. Don't be apologetic, wistful, or meek. The boy is yours, fight for him by look, word and action. Go to it, kid.

Older Russians Hear Baptists

MOSCOW (UP) — More than 2,000 Muscovites — mostly older women — jammed Moscow's only Baptist Church Sunday morning to hear three American Baptist leaders bring a message of goodwill and peace to the Russians from American Baptists.

Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) who is also president of the Southern Baptist Convention, led the delegation. He and Dr. Clarence Crawford, president of the American Baptist Convention and pastor of Washington, D. C.'s Calvary Baptist Church, and Mrs. Crawford all addressed the congregation. Hays said the trip to Moscow made him a better Christian. He presented the congregation with Russian Bibles.

SOCIETY FORMED

LONDON (UP) — The first steps have been taken to form a Soviet Arab friendship society in Moscow, Radio Moscow reported today, an organizational meeting for such a group packed a large hall Monday night, the radio said.

Porker Golfers Move Closer to SWC Title
FAYETTEVILLE (UP)—Arkansas continued its top golf play by securing a clean sweep 6-0 over Baylor Monday.

The win moved the Razorbacks closer to the Southwest Conference championship as they now have won 24 points and lost but six in leading the top Arkansas has won 12 points and lost 12 points. Bob Zander said he felt the team could take the championship if we can salvage only six of those points.

Arkansas meets Texas Christian here Friday but goes to Columbia, Mo. Wednesday for a non-conference test with the University of Missouri.

Ray Bob Barnes of Fayetteville shot par 70 to lead Arkansas in top foursome Monday. Barnes defeated Don Harmon 1-up and the Hoss' Louis Henderson of Little Rock dropped off to a 77 but still defeated Jerry Coates 1-up.

The doubles team of Barnes and Henderson dropped the Baylor pair 2-up.

In the bottom foursome, Jerry Brackbridge of Hot Springs carried a sizzling three-under-par 67 to whip John Arreaga of Baylor 6-5. Bob Waldron of El Dorado had a 78 to beat George Hale 3-1. Brackbridge and Waldron defeated the visitors 6-2.

What Happened to St. Louis Fighter?

by UNITED PRESS
Abe Simon, a 200-pound heavy-weight of the Joe Louis era, started his fight career with an impressive string of knockouts beginning in 1935. In his 14th fight, he lost his one to Lou Nova but scored four more kayos and then was flattened himself by Buddy Bacc. Thereafter, Abe slowly worked himself up the line with string of victories, including a six-round knockout of Jersey Joe Walcott in 1940. He turned into a pretty fair heavyweight but he made a mistake for Louis, who took him out once in 13 rounds and again in six.

Whatever happened to Abe Simon? Now in his early 40's, big Abe still lives in the New York area where he has been a television actor, occasionally referees fights and serves as a detective at a trotting track.

Apparent Now Yankees Are Team to Beat

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE
(Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.)
By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—It has become obvious today that the New York Yankees, with an awesome supply of replaceable parts, are off on what could be one of the biggest runaways in major league history.

The Yanks were supposed to run off and hide from the rest of the pack last season. That they won by "only" eight games was something of a mystery in itself.

But their getaway six victories in seven starts and an almost ostentatious display of talent makes it evident that barring a horde of injuries, this is a ball club in a class by itself.

To commence with, the Yankee pitching staff is loaded. For example, in seven games it has given up only nine runs. Don Larsen and Bob Turley started with four-hitters while Whitey Ford had a five-hitter and Johnny Kucks also has gone the distance.

Bullpen Aid Needed
Tom Skutumpah, Bobby Santz and Larsen, have needed bullpen aid. But it was there in the persons of Ryne Duren, Bob Grim and even Ford.

When Larsen's arm tightened up Monday, manager Casey Stengel didn't call on the still late Sal Maglie, Art Ditmar or Al Ciolette. Grim had a poor spring and needed the work and, when he faced the late inning, Stengel didn't mess around but went for the crusher with Ford.

The man isn't giving anything away and meanwhile he is still in position to platoon his ball club with 20 many replaceable parts that it's a source of amazement when he uses the same lineup two days in a row.

Seldom has any club had the interlocking components which makes this such a versatile team.

Behind the plate he has Yogi Berra backed by Elston Howard and Darrell Johnson, who would be fighting for the first string berth on some other clubs.

At first he can use Bill Skowron, Marv Throneberry, Harry Simpson or Howard.

At second he has Bobby Richardson, Gil McDougald or Tony Kubek.

At shortstop he can use McDougald, Jerry Lumpe, Kubek or Fritz Brickell.

Big Cat at Third
At third the cast includes Andy Carey, Lumpe, McDougald, Skowron or Kubek.

Left field performers include Norm Siebern, Enos Slaughter, Howard, Bobby Del Greco and Simpson. Del Greco also backs up Mickey Mantle in center, and behind Hank Bauer in right Stengel can use Simpson and even Berra.

When the 25-year-old Lumpe hurt his ankle, it hardly made a dent in Casey's well-juggled plans.

Athletics Play Yanks Better Than Anyone

By MILTON RICHMAN.
United Press Sports Writer
Joke all you like about them being a Yankee "farm team," but those cantankerous Kansas City Athletics are giving the "parent club" a better run for their money than anyone else in the American League.

All this talk about a Yankee runaway isn't making much of an impression on the surprisingly strong, second-place Athletics who kept within a game-and-a-half of the league-leading New Yorkers with an uphill 6-4 victory over Cleveland Monday night.

Kansas City's hustle and take-a-chance tactics on the base paths already is being buzzed about around the circuit. So is their power which they were supposed to have sacrificed in winter deals.

Frank House supplied the big punch when he smashed a grand-slam homer in an eight-run eighth inning against the Indians. The A's took advantage of six walks and an error by Cicero Carrasquel to push across their runs in the eighth.

Peoples Jim (Mudcat) Grant, Cleveland's starter, had a 4-1 lead until he blew up in the eighth. Roger Maris of the Indians and Woody Held of the A's had homered up to that point. Murry Dickson, the 41-year-old knuckleballer, was credited with the victory in relief of Ralph Terry.

Short Day for Larsen
Don Larsen put in a short day but paced the Yankees to their fifth straight victory, a 4-1 decision over the Red Sox, while Detroit edged Chicago, 2-1. The Washington-Baltimore game was postponed because of rain.

The Cincinnati Reds beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-2, in a 14-inning game that took four hours and 35 minutes. Rain washed out the only other National League scheduled game between Milwaukee and Pittsburgh.

Ted Williams connected for his first hit of the season when he singled off Larsen in the fifth and just to show he hasn't lost his touch, he homered off Grim in the seventh. Hank Bauer homered in the first inning off loser Willard Nixon.

Second Ninth-Inning Loss
Mickey McDermott, who some say is a better hitter than a pitcher, pinch singled home the Tigers' winning run in the ninth inning against the White Sox. McDermott's blow came off reliever Ray Moore after Charley Maxwell had opened the ninth with a double off loser Dick Donovan. It marked the second time in as many starts Donovan lost to Detroit in the ninth.

Detroit starter Frank Lary gave up Chicago's only run in the sixth on two walks and two hit batsmen, but the Tigers tied the score in the eighth on singles by pinch hitter Bill Taylor, Harvey Kucik and Al Kaline. Vito Valentini pitched the ninth for Detroit, held the White Sox hitless, and was the winner.

The contest between the Red Sox and Phillies was a weird one with 34 players seeing action and 19 walks handed out. Pinch hitter Bob Thurman singled home the tie-breaking run off Jim Heath in the 14th inning and the Red Sox added an insurance run when shortstop Roy Smalley committed two errors on the same play. Hal Jeffcoat, third of four Cincinnati pitchers, was credited with the victory. Before Thurman broke the tie, Heath had struck out five batters in 2-3 innings. Don Hoak led Cincinnati's 15-hit attack with three hits.

18.7 miles per gallon
in '58 Mobilgas Economy Run
HERE IN THE SOUTHWEST
LOS ANGELES TO GALVESTON, TEXAS

It was the longest, toughest route of all Mobilgas Economy Runs, a total of 1,883 miles. Temperatures ranged from desert heat to mountain cold with altitudes from 22 feet below sea level to 7,540 feet above sea level, through 141 towns and cities en route. Yet these 1958 stock cars established amazing mileage records. This is not a rare, but a performance test to measure the efficiency of American stock cars in utilizing gasoline. Traveling many of the same highways you use, with the same gasoline you use, these cars proved again that you're miles ahead with Mobil. You, too, can get better mileage in your car. Just practice the same rules observed by these expert drivers: 1. Drive safely. High speeds and jack rabbit starts waste gasoline. 2. Let a Mobil Dealer give your car careful, expert maintenance. 3. Always use Mobilgas Special for top power, mileage and performance. ... Magnolia Petroleum Company, a Secony Mobil Company.
